State Alumni to Hold Open House

State Students Enroll For Summer Session On S. S. California

Dr. Roberts-Dr. Draper Will Be Directors of Travel College

Beginning July 1, the Panama Pacific, S. S. California, leaves San Francisco on a voyage unique on the West Coast—a traveling summer session in which 100 students will visit ports on the New York round trip. A distinguished faculty will accompany them to instruct classes en route which will grant full college credit.

Dr. Roberts to Teach
Dr. Alexander C. Roberts, president of San Francisco State, and Dr. Alexander Draper, president of the State, will offer instruction, as will other California scholars, including Dr. Ruth Thompson, in psychology, and Dr. Lawrence Kinnaird, in both languages of the San Francisco State faculty.

Among those who have already signed up for the trip are Ethel Nelson, Margaret Withers, Mary Margaret Christensen, Mable Christensen, Margaret King, and Bruce Roberts.

Begin at Cliff Hotel
The first four days of class work will be held at the Cliff Hotel in San Francisco from June 26 to July 1. Then, from Havana, Cuba, and Panama, the party will stay at the New York City five days, where they will visit all points of interest.

Completing a sea voyage with the opportunity to take needed or desired work, the prospective tourists are looking forward to the five weeks' trip. As many as six units of work will be taken, from among the courses offered in art, education, English, geology, history, music, political science, psychology, and modern language.

DR. ROBERT'S BOOK WINS HIGH RANK IN EDUCATION FIELD

Sixty outstanding publications in the field of education are annually compiled for the American Library Association and the Journal of the National Education Association. In the list of these books, published in the United States during the year 1932 was included "Principles of American Secondary Education," written by President Alexander C. Roberts and Dr. E. M. Draper, associate professor of education at the University of Washington.

The chief contribution of this book is the presentation in one volume of the history, principles, and teaching procedures in secondary education. Discussion on such problems as the size, scope, and functions of the modern secondary school, and valuable chapters on the history of evolution of the secondary school in America and foreign lands.

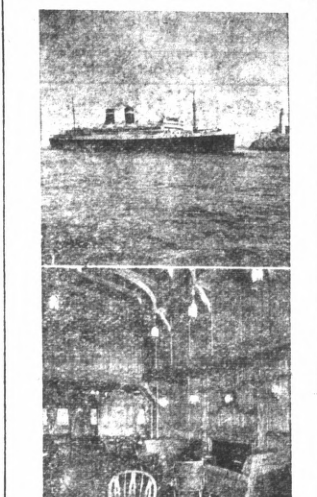

Dr. Roberts has long been prominent in the educational field. Before assuming the presidency of the San Francisco State Teachers' College, he was the president of the Centralia State Normal School in Washington. Later Dr. Roberts was lecturer and professor of education, director of extension service, and dean of the summer quarter at the University of Washington.

SPHINX SYMPOSIUM EDUCATION SYSTEM

Dr. Garland Ethel Is Speaker Today on Lewis' Novel
"Do We Receive an Education at College?" was the question in dispute at the Sphinx Club meeting Wednesday, April 19. In the absence of the scheduled guest speaker, members contributed in open forum discussion.

Declaring that many instructors are unable to correlate life with the theory they teach, Dr. Elias T. Arnesen, club sponsor, remarked that the modern educational system possesses a number of less desirable aspects in need of strengthening, but that the fault can not be laid to any single one, but that the system, the educator, and the educatee share equally for present-day shortcomings. "The great need," he said, "is for education which will develop the individual in the more successful conduct of his own life."

Reorganization Of Tests Made By Dr. Butler

Completing an extensive study of the pre-professional test courses and the way in which they might be reorganized, Dr. John H. Butler, dean of the Lower Division, and Mrs. Adele Bailey, instructor of pre-professional courses, presented to the Admission and Advanced Standing Committee a report in three parts: (1) A survey of the present system, (2) Shortcomings that seem inherent in the present system, (3) Suggestions that may lead to a revision of the present system. After studying and debating the report for several meetings, the committee sent it back to Dr. Butler with criticisms and suggestions by which he was to draw up and present to the committee a final plan for reorganization of the tests.

At the faculty meeting on Thursday, April 6, the proposed reorganization plan was passed. The fourteen points of the plan are, in brief, as follows: (1) Purpose of pre-professional tests and courses—The purpose of these tests and courses is to insure that all students who enter directed teaching shall have a facility in the basic elementary school subjects. (2) Scope of tests—The students shall take tests in: Arithmetic, grammar, geography, penmanship, American history, and world history. (3) Passing standards—The student who passes ninth grade standards in these tests shall be given clear standing in his pre-professional work. (4) Administration of tests—The tests shall be given three times each semester. (5) Type of Tests—The Stanford achievement tests shall be abandoned and there shall be adopted standardized tests in each subject. (6) Length of pre-professional courses—One to two meetings a week depending on the course. (7) Course fees—The fees shall be $4 for arithmetic and penmanship and $2 for all others. (8) Attendance—Attendance shall be governed by the same regulations that govern attendance in college courses. (9) Credit—Non-credit in nature. (10) Grades—Test records shall be recorded as "pass" and "fail" course grades as A, B, C, D and F. (11) Recording of grades—Grades shall be recorded at the end of each semester in the office of the recorder. (12) Relation to directed teaching—No student shall be permitted to enter directed teaching until he has a clear pre-professional record unless he petitions to the Scholarship Committee. (13) Administrative control—All matters of policy shall be determined by the Pre-professional Work Committee. (14) Finances—The pre-professional test shall be purchased by the college. The instructor or instructors shall be paid a flat salary or salaries to be drawn from course fees paid by students.

This new plan will go into effect next semester.

Singers Entertain at Director's Meet

Last Friday evening, March 24, the Madrigals, directed by Miss Eileen McCall, presented three numbers at the Rural Supervisors' banquet and were enthusiastically received. The numbers offered were "Passing By" by Purcell; "Matona, Lovely Maiden," by Lassus; and "My Bonnie Lass," by Morley. The songs were offered in a particularly fine setting, being sung around the banquet table as is the custom of English Madrigals.

FOURTH ANNUAL MEET IS HELD AT FAIRMONT HOTEL

The Education of Exceptional Children Discussed by Northern Council

On Saturday, April 22, the Fourth Annual Conference of the Northern California Council for the Education of Exceptional Children was held at the Fairmont Hotel. The opening session began at 9:30 in the Terrace Room, with Elwood A. Stevenson, president of the governing board, presiding.

Topics Discussed
The entire conference program was arranged by a committee headed by Miss Lilla B. McKenzie, assistant speech instructor at State. The program included section meetings where the following topics were lectured and discussed: Administration and Supervision, The Well Endowed Child, Children of Lowered Vitality, Mentally Handicapped, The Deaf, The Crippled, Visually Handicapped, Speech Correction, The Hard of Hearing.

At 12:30 p. m. a group luncheon was held with Dr. Alexander C. Roberts as toastmaster. This program included a report of the committee on nominations, three minute reports from the morning sections, and two addresses.

Discuss Behavior Problems
The first address was delivered by Walter E. Morgan, assistant superintendent of public school instruction; the second by Vierling Kersey, superintendent of public instruction and director of education.

"Behavior Problems" was the topic of discussion at the general session held at two o'clock in the Terrace Room of the hotel.

Miss Hilda Homes, of the psychology department at State, headed the council committee on mentally defective children. Other notables acting as chairmen for different section meetings were: Mr. F. B. Smith, Lillian B. Hill, William G. Paden, Mary W. Robinson, Albert N. Benson, Elizabeth Schroeder, Veronica Dickey and Delight Rice.

ASSEMBLY VOTES AFFIRMATIVE ON COLLEGE BILL
The bill, which was presented to the legislature providing the change of teachers' colleges in California to State colleges, was debated for two hours in the Assembly at Sacramento on Friday evening, April 21. It was passed by a vote of forty-two to thirty-two. Final consideration will be taken some time this week and until then the Senate vote will not be known.

Without increased cost to the State this will enable some 300 students to receive college training at this institution, who now are required to attend junior college and other institutions at greater personal and city expense. At the same meeting the summer session plans as presented by Dean Mary A. Ward were approved both for faculty and courses offered. San Francisco State's summer session is the largest and richest teachers' college summer session in the West.

TEACHERS ENJOY ARTCRAFT STUDIO
Schwabacher-Frey Exhibit Material for Instructors
A popular gathering place for teachers who are in search of new ideas for their classes in arts and crafts is the studio at Schwabacher-Frey. Here the teachers may look over exhibits and chat with instructors who teach without charge every day between the hours of 10 and 4.

Special attention is given to the needs of teachers and the students, and Mrs. Whitehead is well-known to many of them. Mrs. Whitehead teaches furniture decoration in enamels and applied clay design. Glass decoration is coming in for a great deal of attention and is the newest artcraft. It is taught daily from 2 to 4. Teachers are cordially invited to visit the studio at Schwabacher-Frey on Market street, opposite Grant avenue.

Degree Received

Miss Cecelia Anderson, supervisor in the Frederic Burk School, has completed her examinations for her master's degree at the University of California School of Education. Miss Anderson, who has been a supervisor for several years in the training school, a few years ago took a leave of a year during which she was awarded the degree of bachelor of philosophy at the university.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR SENIOR BALL SATURDAY NIGHT

Walter Krausgrill's Band Will Provide Music For Semi-Formal

Marking the last social activity of the semester, the St. Francis Yacht Club will be the scene of the Senior Ball on April 29, the Saturday before finals start. Given by the class of December 33 for the class of May '33, the dance will be open to the student body.

Semi-Formal
As a fitting send-off for the graduates, the ball will be a gala affair. Although publicized as semi-formal, the men are urged to wear tuxedos. One hundred and thirty-four bids will be sold at the college for $1.25. This will entitle the holders to obtain programs and favors. Although keeping it a secret, Helene Barnett, chairman of the dance committee, promises something very new and wholly attractive in the way of favors.

Committee Named
Prominent members of the senior class have been working hard to make this Senior Ball the most successful one ever held. According to current reports, it probably will be. With Helene Barnett as chairman, the committee is composed of Florence Podesta, Marie Hanly, Edith Flexenhar, Hermine Vujevitch, Dina Chelini and Sylvia Avanzato.

Sponsors and Guests
Mr. and Mrs. Morris Monroe, Dr. Edna Barney and Dr. and Mrs. P. E. Valentine are sponsoring the dance. As guests, Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Roberts, Dean and Mrs. Clarence J. DuFour and Dean Mary A. Ward have been invited.

Walter Krausgrill's orchestra will provide the music. Buy your bids now, because the supply is limited. Remember April 29 as the date of the Senior Ball. It's a good night, there'll be good music, a good dance and a good time for all.

Pre-Registered Students Note Procedure List

Students who have pre-registered and are present residents of the college will pay their fees on the following dates:

1. Freshmen will pay fees on Monday, August 14, 1933.
 2. Sophomores and upper classmen having laboratory courses will pay fees on Tuesday, August 15, 1933.
 3. Juniors and seniors will pay fees on Wednesday, August 16, 1933.
- All students will use the following procedure in paying the fees:
1. Go to room 203. This room will be opened at 8 o'clock.
 2. Make out registration, dean's publicity, and extra-curricula cards.
 3. Carry cards to room 109.
 4. Secure bills.
 5. Students should be prepared to pay student body charges in cash or by check drawn for full amount.
 6. Students should pay the state and library fee in another separate check for the exact amount.
 7. After payment of bills students should secure enrollment cards.
 8. Present laboratory cards to members of the department before 12 o'clock on Wednesday, and all other cards should be presented at the first meeting of the class.
- New students of the college who are pre-registered should use the following procedure:
1. Go to the faculty advisors' meetings as scheduled on the bulletin board or in the student handbook.
 2. Make out registration, dean's publicity, extra-curricula activity cards.
 3. Go to room 109 and follow the above procedure.
- All new students who are not pre-registered should report to the gym to make out programs and to be given directions.

State Students Plan Open House Saturday For College Alumni

Committee Heads

(Upper)
Miss Bertha Roberts, former San Francisco State Teachers College Alumni president, and now Deputy Superintendent of San Francisco schools, will be among the prominent guests of the Open House to be held on the campus next Saturday, April the twenty-ninth.

(Upper)
Miss Ann Shaw, president of the Associated Women Students, was selected to head a committee of twenty girls to hostess at the luncheon to be given in the college gymnasium.
(Left)
Mr. Everett O'Rourke, former Assembly Chairman, and now a prominent member of the Alumni Association, is chairman of the day.

Everett O'Rourke Heads Committee—Prominent Group Assists

Open House at State
On Saturday, April 29, from 1 to 6 in the afternoon the students and faculty of San Francisco State Teachers' College will hold open house for the alumni and friends of the college. A program of activities and exhibits has been planned for the occasion and refreshments will be served from 4 to 6 o'clock in the gymnasium, which is to be specially decorated.

The chairman of the day, Everett O'Rourke, has appointed some outstanding committeemen and committeewomen who are working zealously to make this celebration one of the outstanding milestones of the year. Ted Goldman, chairman of the program committee, and his assistant, Dorothy Guinn, have prepared a program of field activities to be held from 1 until 2:30 in the afternoon, in which there will be both men and women participants. Many of the physical education majors and minors are going to "do their stuff," from tumbling to archery. Maybe a game of football will be played. The College Theater will present a play; the Kappa Delta Tau has planned some dances for the entertainment; and the Music Federation will furnish both instrumental and vocal music. Also, Mr. King and his class are preparing one of those debates which tickle your ribs and then make you think.

Publicity-Hospitality Workers
Ralph Gioffi, our newly-elected president of the student body, is assistant chairman in charge of publicity and hospitality. He has working with him as publicity manager Genevieve Hogan, who has been contacting with all of the dailies and weeklies in the bay section, as well as the outlying counties and cities. Lois Shaw and Mary Moore are chief hostesses in charge of hospitality. They have selected about forty men and women of the college to act as guides to the visitors, and to see that our guests have an interesting time during every minute of their visit on our campus.

These hospitality hostesses and hosts have the job of explaining the exhibits which are to be on display. The Frederic Burk classrooms and the children's library are to be open, for Saturday is the last day of Frederic Schools week in San Francisco. Miss Reid has consented to have a flower and nature study exhibit in Anderson Hall. Miss Mayer and the other members of the Art Department will have College Hall decorated for a splendid exhibition of art work of all kinds. Miss Fleming is keeping the library open and making a special display of certain books of which our college is justly proud.

Many Interested Participants
Dick Davis, our new athletic manager, is assistant chairman in charge of refreshments. He has selected Ann Shaw to be hostess of the luncheon hours. Ann has appointed twenty or more girls to see that all of the guests are properly fed and that they have a good time in the gymnasium.

The faculty has co-operated with the students in an attempt to make this affair truly a "big" one. Mrs. Ellsworth and Dean Cox have given much time to the organization and guidance of all the projects for the day. Miss Mayer has met with the hostesses and had a chat with them about proper clothes for the afternoon. We are to have a few of the women of the faculty to pour tea and coffee during the buffet luncheon.

Unified Participation Urged
In order to make this celebration a real success it is necessary for the student body and faculty to act as a single unit and promote the cause in a big way. Let us all make this "Open House" the opening of a new era for our college.

Among the prominent guests will be Miss Bertha Roberts, deputy superintendent of San Francisco schools and former president of the Alumni Association; Mrs. Rose Buckhalter, member of the Board of Education of Oakland; Dean Mary A. Ward of State; Mrs. Edith Cochran, principal of the John Muir School; Miss Isabel Cook, rural supervisor in Marin County; Miss Helen Craft, counselor at the Alexander Hamilton Junior High, Oakland; Miss Florence Tillman, principal of the Crocker Highlands School, Oakland; Miss Bernice Baxter, principal of the Highlands School, Oakland; and Miss Mary Cooney, vice-principal of the Pacific Heights School.

Frosh Blame Tests For Low Grades

In a recent letter to the faculty Dr. John H. Butler, Dean of the Lower Division, brought to light the fact that many of the low freshmen tend to blame their objective tests for the low grades they are receiving in certain courses. He stated that it was possible that those students who had not taken these tests before entering college may have had difficulties which could be obviated by proper instruction in how to study for these tests, and recommended several measures which might help students taking the tests.

FIRST EDITION SCRIBES' YEAR-BOOK OUT SOON

"The Orphic," Scribes' Club literary yearbook, makes its appearance this week on the State campus. Composed of contributions by well-known local writers, among whom are James Stinchcomb, of "Once Over" Golden Gater note; Kirk Truman, of "Trumanisms"; woodcut illustrations by David Fox and other art students, and writings by several Scribes' Club members, the publication offers a fair representation of the talent to be found in the student body.

Limited to an edition of 300, subscriptions on sale for ten cents by club members are going rapidly. If successful in its first year, the magazine will continue as an annual project of the organization. George-Nell Becknell is Scribes' president, and Vivian Olson, faculty sponsor. Henning Edlunds is editor of the "Orphic," and Marie Sime, assistant. The editorial board is composed of Miss Becknell, Jean Webb, Violet Maguire, Grace Strominger, Marie Sherrill, and Dallas Bakstinger.

MISS REID TAKES LONG WAY HOME

State Instructor Plays 'Absent Minded' Part

We have all heard, or read, about the absent minded professor who does this and that. Perhaps some of us have even seen one from a distance. But to State goes the credit for having one on the faculty, one of the kind that gets on a train and forgets to get off.

It was only a few days until mid-term reports were due in the office, and Miss Lea Reid, of the biology department, boarded the train for Redwood City, and points south, with an armful of ex papers. She soon became so engrossed in marking big red "A's" on them that Redwood City slipped into the background unnoticed.

After a time it occurred to Miss Reid that she might be nearing home. She looked out the window, didn't know where she was. Could this be Southern California? A kindly conductor informed her that the train was approaching Mountain View; he gave her a ticket home.

Park Class Site

Instead of holding class at the college, the advanced botany class of Miss Effie B. McFadden met at Sigmund Stern's Park at Sloat Boulevard for a field trip Friday morning, April 7. From Stern Park the class went to Pine Lake, where the students collected 15 different species of fungus, including puff balls, cup fungus, and bench fungus. The class had an opportunity to see growing illustrations of every phylum studied in class in a natural habitat. The class also collected varieties of ferns, lichens, liverworts, mosses, and flowers.

Symphony For Summer Will Interest Many

The Summer Symphony Association of San Francisco announces its eighth season of summer concerts. For the past seven years these summer concerts have given the musical public a chance to hear one of the great symphony orchestras in America, under the leadership of some of the world's foremost conductors, interpreting programs of standard symphonic literature. The prices range as low as 25 and 50 cents.

This year eight concerts will be given instead of five, as last season. They will all take place on Tuesday evenings at the Civic Auditorium during eight consecutive weeks, beginning July 11.

July 11—Henry Hadley, first conductor of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, 1913-1915, will open the season with a program featuring American music.

July 18—Richard Lert, eminent German conductor, will conduct a program entitled "A Night in Vienna."

July 25—Bernardino Molinari, of the Augusteo Orchestra of Rome, will conduct an Italian program.

August 1 and 8—Fritz Reiner, conductor of the Philadelphia Opera Company, will be in charge of one concert interpreting Beethoven, and one program of miscellaneous character.

August 15—Alfred Hertz will direct a Brahms-Wagner anniversary program. The Municipal Chorus will also be on this program.

August 22 and 29—Ossip Gabrilowitch, conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, will conclude the season with two concerts, the second of which will be a Tchaikowsky program.

For information regarding scrip books or tickets see Rudolph Rupp.

Fourteen Students Graduate from F. B.

Fourteen students of the Frederic Burk Training School will receive graduation diplomas in the Frederic Burk Auditorium, Wednesday evening, May 3, at 8:00. The diplomas will be presented by Mr. Sherman L. Brown, principal.

Following the graduation exercises, students will participate in a playlet under the direction of Miss Jessie Casebolt. Music will be furnished by the Frederic Burk orchestra under the direction of Miss Florence Alexander, and singing under the direction of Mrs. Mary Weaver McCauley.

Following is a list of the students graduating: Duff, Alan Willis; Green, John Root; Haising, Grand James; Herzberg, Mendel M.; Hesser, Loren Willard; Lobsien, Ida Marie; Lorenz, Geraldine Charlotte; Martin, John Winthrop; Pachter, Lillian Monica; Simon, Albert Abraham; Skinner, Alice Catherine; Veach Jr., Fletcher R.; Willard, Harold Bruce; Lundborg, Claus Conrad.

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS MAP FALL PROGRAM

Many Revolutionary Ideas Will Be Introduced by New Regime

Intense activity is planned by the new student body officers for next term. They are attacking their future problems with enthusiasm that bodes well for the College. Plans are being discussed to bring the school out of its comparative obscurity and to make the people of the bay region realize its possibilities. They want to contact the public.

Instead of letting responsibility rest on one person they intend to make the student body officers a cabinet of information that will keep many people informed, rather than a select few.

Organizations to Co-operate

They are planning extensive co-operation with the faculty, student body, and all organizations of the school, and are forming new means of publicizing assemblies.

Each officer has plans for his term of office. President Cioffi plans to cope with his problems to the best of his ability. He says, "Any government is an intangible thing. I shall try to make this government work closer to theory."

The comment of Mary Margaret, vice-president, was, "This is a crucial year, due to the question of fees and other difficulties, but I shall do my best to meet the situation."

Dick Davis Comments

Dick Davis, athletic manager, made the following statement: "I shall endeavor to continue and advance the ambitious and ever-growing athletic program that has exemplified State's inter-collegiate activity during the past two years. I think the great criticism that has been leveled at the college is that there is a lack of tangible school spirit and enthusiasm. To build up such a spirit will be the great burden incumbent on the new student body officers, who, I am sure, are ready and willing to shoulder it. I am sure that athletics will play their important part in the building of such a spirit. I, as athletic manager, shall do my best to help."

Max Viney, yell leader, plans to form a rally committee solely of men who have shown former ability to work in other organizations. "The freshmen will be made to learn the songs and yells," said Max, "but that doesn't leave the other classes out."

Another Year's Work

"My re-election," remarked James Stinchcomb, student director of publications, "means that I have a chance to get behind the plow for another year in a very fertile field. I intend to stand firmly upon the foundation which has been laid with such energetic activity by the student body officers and the faculty."

Helen Gray, student body secretary, and Bob Peterson, treasurer, have also made plans which they have not yet divulged, but they will give their wholehearted co-operation to the college.

INTERNATIONALISTS HOLD INSTALLATION

Bringing a successful semester's program to a close, the International Club held its installation dinner at the Crocker Gold on Friday evening, April 21. The event marked, too, the launching of a unique program for the fall semester.

During the course of the dinner, Pearl Fulthorp, president during the spring semester, gave an impromptu talk, after which she introduced her successor, Wesley Johnson. In commenting on the future policy of the club, Mr. Johnson said: "The purpose of the International Club is to acquaint its members with the cultures of various races and nationalities as well as to study problems of world interest. For the coming semester we have scheduled several events which are destined to give State local, and possibly nation-wide, advertisement."

Following the dinner a program consisting mostly of State's talent was rendered. The honored guests for the evening were: Dr. Floyd Cave, associate professor of social science; Mrs. Floyd Cave, and Mrs. Anna Verona Dorris, associate professor of social science.

The following persons will be the officers for the coming semester: Wesley Johnson, president; Rosalino Abaya, vice-president; Jacqueline Martin, corresponding secretary; Alice Mano, recording secretary; Ethel Hennig, treasurer.

MISS L. MCKENZIE GIVES COMMENT ON SPEECH DEFECT

Miss Lilla B. McKenzie, speech instructor of State, agrees with the statement that "It seems important that educators should be aware of the presence and persistence of speech defects in students of good mental ability, and it is unfortunate that a stigma should attach itself to work in speech correction, on the part of other faculty members and students, as the impression often prevails that students placed in the speech correction group are 'dumb bells' or of inferior intelligence."

That speech training fosters the growth of power and achievement in college activities as is evident from the fact that from the corrective speech group have come a number of outstanding students in college life. Miss McKenzie has observed that their development came about quite as much through increased knowledge of themselves and ability to use speech as a mode of expression in a socially acceptable fashion and to overcome fears and inhibitions which prevented normal unfoldment.

Shallow breathing, apathetic-inert responses based on poor muscle tones and lack of vigor, play an important part in the characteristic colorless, ineffective speech of many students.

SUPERVISOR IS GUEST SPEAKER AT CLASS MEET

Miss O. Mae Willett, Rural Supervisor in San Luis Obispo county schools, traveled 210 miles in order to speak to the Education 350 classes and the student body in general on the "Pleasures and Problems of the Rural School Teacher."

Several worthwhile suggestions were given to the students in the talk. Miss Willett said, "You must find out what the community wants, and carry out its wishes in your teaching."

Miss Willett said that she is very well pleased with the teachers from San Francisco State, because they come to the San Luis Obispo county schools with a friendly attitude toward the children, and they strive to bring out the individual merits of each student, rather than concentrate all their efforts on the teaching of subjects.

Extra-Curricular Records Checked

"Students must get their extra-curricular activity records up to date during the next ten days," announces Dick Davis, in charge of permanent cards. Cards may be secured in Dean Ward's office, by students who have not already reported chairmanships or membership on various committees, or participation in any extra-curricular activities.

All who have at any time this year been chairmen should list the names of their committee members, so that proper credit may be given. The cards will then be handed back to the office, where they will be entered upon the permanent records of each student. At graduation or transfer to other colleges, these records accompany official graduation papers and transcripts.

Graduation Singers

Women's Chorus, a group of one hundred and fifty young women of State Teachers College, will sing at the graduation exercises to be held Friday evening, 8 o'clock, at the Everett Junior High School Auditorium. The Women's Chorus has been under the direction of Mrs. Mary Weaver McCauley, Miss Ethel England, and Mr. William Freeburg.

TWO PERFORMANCES OF DANCE CONCERT ARE GRAND SUCCESS

Music, Lighting, Dance Themes, Costumes Colorful and Lively

The Dance Concert presented by members of Kappa Delta Tau in Frederic Burk auditorium last Wednesday and Thursday nights was a great success, according to Mrs. Sarah Farrell Scott, director of the group, and students who attended the performances.

Peasant Mazurka
Perhaps the most colorful dance was the Peasant Mazurka. Both the music and dance themes were lively, and the number served as an appropriate finale to the other numbers.

The interpretation of Adagio by Rachel Smith and Elsie Schulte met with great approval of the audience. This dance as a take-off on the accepted form of the adagio, and the dancers managed to get into some impossible positions in their attempts at artistic poses.

Lotus Land
An unusual and beautiful number was "Lotus Land," executed by all members of the club. The costumes and lighting effects were very effective. The Russian ceremonial, "Arkon," clearly disclosed the versatility of some of the male members of the student body.

"Eastern Dance," by Rosalie Wagner, and "Blue Lullaby" by Evangeline Richards, were outstanding numbers on the program, which, as a whole, was well balanced and artistically carried out.

PUBLICATIONS STAGE RUCKUS NOON TODAY

With a snappy program that promises peppy entertainment, the Journalism department will present the first annual Publications Ruckus this noon. It is to be held in room 201, in College Hall. The entertainment is open to the student body for the admission price of ten cents; the time is 12:15.

James Stinchcomb, student director of publications, is acting as Master of Ceremonies for the vaudeville entertainment. The program consists of: Wesley Johnson, in a song and tap number; Cecil and Sally, a skit on the popular radio pair, with George Teale, Lois MacDonald, and Fred Wiseman; Dan Baker, popular State soloist, will sing "On the Road to Mandalay"; and the feature of the program, a genuine German Band, in keeping with the present beer craze.

Mrs. Blanche Ellsworth, advisor of the Golden Gate, is acting as faculty sponsor. Elaine Fibush, as chairman of the Ruckus committee, has arranged a program that will have the appeal the student body wants. Miss Fibush has been assisted by Marge Eakin and Clarice Dechent.

EXTENSION CHANGE NOW CONSIDERED

Plans are under consideration to change the entire arrangement with regard to extension classes. For the reason that many students need the opportunity to attend afternoon and evening classes, a complete section of college classes will probably be arranged for between the hours of 4 and 8 o'clock at night, here at the college. Teachers and employed students who are working during the day will be offered an excellent opportunity by the program now under consideration.

Under the present plans registration in these classes will be open to regular college students at no extra cost. Teachers and other employed students, through this means, will enjoy a wide range of college classes at a reduced fee.

Lost-Found Articles

LOST—A Lifetime Schaffer Pen, by Mary Louise Bendinger as she entered an N car at the Ferry Building. Miss Bendinger thinks a State student picked up the pen. The pen has the full name—Mary Louise Bendinger—on it. Miss Bendinger's post box number is 46, and she would appreciate any news about the pen.

Lost: Black and white Parker fountain pen. Lost at the College. This pen was valued as a keepsake. Return to Sarah Groner, Box 1016.

Found: Lady's ring found on campus. Apply Post Box 215.

REGISTRAR'S NOTES

1. A new system for the paying of next term's fees will be followed by the students. Freshmen will pay fees on Monday, August 14. Sophomores and upper classmen having laboratory courses will pay fees on Tuesday, August 15. Juniors and seniors will pay fees on Wednesday, August 16, 1933.

2. All persons graduating in May or July are expected to attend the special meeting to be held Thursday, April 27, at 4 o'clock in the Frederic Burk Auditorium. All high seniors will be excused from classes, so be prompt. It is essential that the above people attend this meeting.

3. All students planning to leave the college at the end of this semester should apply at the office for leaving cards.

Students who are planning to transfer to other colleges should notify the office so that their transcript records may be sent to the other colleges. Except in very urgent cases, transcripts will not be sent before May 26. As a common practice transcripts are sent directly to the other colleges and not to the students.

4. Resident students of the college who want to attend the Summer Session and have not pre-registered for this should go to room 105 on Tuesday, June 20.

5. Pending approval by the Curriculum Committee to go into effect Fall, 1933, P. E. 50 will consist of two courses: P. E. 50A, Formal and Rhythmic Activities for Kindergarten and Elementary Grades—one unit; P. E. 50B, Games and Athletics for Kindergarten and Elementary Grades—one unit.

P. E. 50A is scheduled as follows:
T. Th. F.—9, 10, and 3:10.
M. W. F.—1:10.

P. E. 50B is scheduled as follows:
M. W. F.—9, 10, and 3:10.
T. Th.—1:10.

Women should take both courses in the same class hour, but must list two courses, one unit each on programs.

Men should enroll only in P. E. 50A. Men will substitute for P. E. 50B the following courses:
P. E. 84A—T. Th. 1:10—½ unit.
P. E. 84B—M. W. 1:10—½ unit.

6. For persons interested in specific stories suitable for different ages, an abundance of material will be offered by Miss Hermine Henze, librarian of the Frederic Burk Library, in her summer session class, S112. Student teachers who have to prepare a great many stories, do not have time to read for selections and lists have been prepared to help them.

7. The Registrar's office extends its appreciation to the students of the college for the splendid manner in which they co-operated with the office this semester and wishes everyone a happy vacation.

PRE-REGISTRATION COMMITTEE HOLD IMPORTANT MEET

Group Chairmen Call Meeting of Committees—Plan Fall and Summer Work

With its pre-registration plans well under way, the pre-registration committee held an important meeting on March 28. The meeting was called by Helen Strand, chairman of the group, in order that members of the committee might openly offer some constructive criticisms relative to the way pre-registration was handled last semester.

Miss Crumpton Talks

Miss Clara Crumpton, registrar, in a short talk stressed certain qualities of character, such as patience, courtesy, and discretion that members of the committee must use in carrying out their specific tasks. In the open discussion several remedies for faults in last term's pre-registration procedure were given.

During the course of the meeting the different sub-committees were differentiated by Miss Strand, and the sub-committee introduced.

Committees

The committees included the re-admission committee, Margaret Smyth, chairman; committee on the admission of freshmen, headed by Bernice Riley; the committee in charge of the counter and phones, headed by Mary Phelan; the transfer committee, Lois Porter, chairman; the committee in charge of Room 109, Jeanette Barnett, chairman; the committee in charge of the boxes, Huberta Berg, chairman; the information committee, Russell Morris, chairman; and the publicity committee, headed by Reinaldo Pagano.

FREDERIC BURK CHILDREN WILL GIVE OPERETTA

"The Cobbler and the Elves," by Berta Elmsmith, a story of folk-lore, music, and folk-song, will be completely sung and enacted by one hundred and forty children of the primary grades of Frederic Burk School, Thursday, 2 p. m., April 27, and Friday, 7 p. m., April 28.

"This simple and artistic opera is a fine example of the work which all music teachers should be able to put on with primary grade children. It should be seen by all music majors and minors in the college and would prove a valuable supplement to their musical education," said Mrs. McCauley.

Miss Jessie Casebolt, head of the dramatic department of Teachers College, is directing the play; Mrs. Mary Weaver McCauley, music director of State Carriers, is music supervisor of the operetta and will direct the singing ensembles; the dancing is under the direction of Miss Virginia Wise; those in charge of scenery are Messrs. James Stinchcomb, Borden, and Geninni.

Tickets for "The Cobbler and the Elves" will sell for ten and fifteen cents. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Parent-Teachers Association.

Re-elected

Mrs. Frank Merrill, past and newly-elected President of State's Parent-Faculty Club

FRANCISCAN CLUB HOLD FINAL MEET OF SPRING TERM

Business and pleasure were combined by the Franciscan Club in their last meeting of the semester. Election of officers for the fall term comprised the former, a party in the Easter spirit the latter.

Results of the elections were as follows: Luck Weeks, re-elected president; Dale Fime elected vice-president; Glen Wilson, treasurer; Ruth Neiland, secretary.

The party that followed the elections was typical of many that preceded it. Throughout the semester the club has celebrated many festive occasions with social functions which were planned and executed in harmony with the theme of the day. Accordingly, Easter eggs held a very important place in the refreshments of the last meeting. These gatherings have been popular with the club members, and Luck Weeks, president of the organization, said that they have brought together a very pleasant social group.

Work on the new charter has been completed and it is now before the proper authorities. As a result of this the Franciscan Club will start the next semester on a new basis which will widen the scope of its membership.

OPEN ROAD CLUB CLIMAXES YEAR AT DINNER PARTY

Holding their last dinner of the semester, the Open Road Club, sponsored by Mrs. A. V. Dorris, met at Foster and O'Rear's on Wednesday, April 19. As guest speaker, Mr. E. Decker discussed "A Trip Through Germany." Carrying out the theme of travel, place cards in the forms of ships and other suitable decorations were arranged by the committee working under the direction of Leonard Glover, president of the club.

Monday, April 24, a nominating committee, with Emma Heide as chairman, will present the following candidates for office: president, Walter Bartman and William Wolleson; vice-president, Emma Heide; secretary, Helen Lillard and Edna Solari. The Open Road Club will be the host at the college on April 28 to a member of the French consulate, who will discuss Algiers and Morocco in the Frederic Burk Auditorium. This meeting will be open to the student body and will be from 12 to 1 o'clock.

PARENT-FACULTY CLUB COMPLETE EVENTFUL YEAR

Club Contributes to the State Students' Loan Fund; Many Other Gifts

San Francisco State Teachers College Parent-Faculty Club will complete one of the busiest years in its history with a business meeting on May 3 at 2 p. m. in the Frederic Burk auditorium.

A bridge-tea, at the Hotel Fairmont, and a stereophon lecture by Mrs. Anna Verona Dorris, assistant professor of education, constituted the pay events of the last year.

A gift of sixty-one dollars was given to the Student Loan Fund, a desk to the recently opened women's lounge, and a gift of ten dollars to the Men's Association.

Many interesting and instructive meetings have been held, not least among these being a talk on "Technocracy" by Dr. Roy Cave, associate professor of social science. At the recent installation the Madrigal Singers, under the direction of Miss Eileen McCall, instructor in music, gave several selections.

At the conclusion of the fall semester for 1932 the members of the Parent-Faculty Club united in a very clever Christmas play, given in the auditorium of the Frederic Burk Training School.

With a membership of over 100 active and enthusiastic workers, this group is anticipating a very splendid year under the leadership of Mrs. Frank Merrill, recently re-elected president, and her co-workers.

On May 3 the Parent-Faculty Club will hold its final meeting of the semester. The meeting will be held in the Frederic Burk auditorium at 2 p. m. Mrs. Frank Merrill, president, will preside.

CAROLERS RENEW RADIO CONTRACT FOR NEXT FALL

The twelfth and final broadcast over NBC to be given by the "Carolers" will be released through station KPO, Wednesday, at 5 p. m. These series of concerts have proved so successful, as evidenced by the hundreds of complimentary letters received from listeners of Choralia, that the contract with Mr. Arthur Garbett, NBC program manager, has been renewed for twelve concerts to be given during the fall semester, '33.

The Carolers, directed by Mrs. Mary Weaver McCauley, will alternate with the Madrigals, under the direction of Miss Eileen McCall, on alternating Wednesday afternoons. The hour of broadcasting will be the same, 5 o'clock, and will be known as State Teachers College hour.

The past season has proved most successful for State Carolers, a group of sixty young women from the various music departments of State Teachers College. Besides the twelve broadcasts over the NBC network, the Carolers have given concerts at Golden Gate Park, have given a program for the Rural Supervisors in the Frederic Burk auditorium, and have sung for the Music Teachers' Association at the Scottish Rite Auditorium in Oakland. State Carolers are under the direction of Mrs. Mary Weaver McCauley and are accompanied by Miss Jeanette Bastin.

TENNIS TEAM LOSES SERIES TO SAN JOSE

Spartans Win Meets Eight to One and Five to Four

PETTY IS WINNER

Aguirre Wins Match in Second Meet April 22

Like the words of the song, "little by little," State's tennis varsity is gaining on San Jose State's racquet wielders. Last year the Spartans scored a clean sweep against the Gaters, but this season's two encounters told an entirely different story.

The first series, played at San Jose on Saturday, April 8, resulted in an 8 to 1 victory for San Jose.

The lone State winner was the dashing Jack Petty, who celebrated his return to good health by drubbing Smith, Spartan ace, in no uncertain manner. The scores were 6-4, 6-2.

The other members of the squad, although less successful in overcoming the "San Jose jinx," did not lose without a struggle. Aguirre was only defeated after a grueling three set set-to. Samuels gave his opponent plenty to think about at all times.

Gugat was splendid in defeat, as were Rosen and Arlington.

The "improvement" we have been talking about was shown in the second meeting of the two squads. This series, which was the last of the season for the Gaters, was played in San Francisco, Saturday, April 22.

This time the Spartans were only able to garner in five of the nine matches.

Winners for State were Jack Petty and Mario Aguirre in the singles, Petty and Aguirre, as a team, in doubles, and Gugat and Arlington in the doubles.

BLOCK "S" WINNERS FOR TRACK LISTED

Members of the 1933 track team that will receive Block "S" for points scored in meets this season are as follows:

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

By Arthur Rosenbaum

Well, well, what do you know about this. Yes, my good citizens of State, it has actually come to pass. SFSTC has an undefeated team.

That track squad certainly did things this season, for which we simple folk are thankful. No longer the "girls' school." No longer the last-place boys. No longer the rejects in college athletics.

For all of which, boys, we pass on this orchid to you. To you, Ed Henry, Runar Stone, Ray Allee, Stanley Smith, Williams, Bell, Davis, Alderman, Nolan, Sebastian, Johnson and every last member of the squad.

Of course, if you want to be particular about it, you could recall that Sacramento affair, at which the State team took fifth. But we won't mention that, and just stick with the dual meets.

First the boys showed the local prep just how things should be done. Then San Mateo Junior College faced the firing squad. A little more exercise and Pacific and Chico exploded.

Undefeated in dual meets. Verily, 'tis a thing much to be wondered. An event for history. Something to tell your grandchildren. God bless 'em.

The boys haven't finished yet. Down at Fresno May 13 they will go against the classic array of college stars yet assembled this year. The Staters, in Class B, should place high.

And while we're passing out orchids, we might as well include ye goode olde Dean, David J. Cox. David got the best out of his small squad. Certainly, he had to sacrifice possible record breakers such as Runar Stone in order to get points. But to the Dean the school was first—not the individual—and that's how the team got that way.

It tickled us to see Stone making so many points; Ed Henry making a comeback against Clarence Henry of Chico; Ray Allee adding four inches to his chest and his shot put marks; Williams coming to us from out of nowhere in the 880; Stanley Smith rising out of a sick-bed to race against Chico; Nolan getting better every time out in the hurdles.

What's that, Dussy? No more room? Okay, old kid, old top, old soak, old man, old pal, I'll close her up.

Well, read, readers, they're ousting me off the page. And so, so long for the nonce, and here's how for a spirit-filled summer.

Associate Editor Thanks H. Martin

The sports editor wishes to take this opportunity to thank Harold Martin, last year's sports editor for his co-operation in gathering and writing news for the Golden Gater. Due to illness Martin was not able to return to college this semester. His health regained after a six months' rest, Martin plans to be back at State in the fall.

State Track Team Completes Season Without Losing Meet Modesto Is Defeated 80 to 41

W. A. A. PLAY DAY HELD AT BURLINGAME HI

San Mateo, San Jose and State Are Represented at Annual Event

Last Saturday, April 22, the annual Women's Sport Day was held at Burlingame High School. San Francisco State Teachers College and San Jose State Teachers College were guests of San Mateo Junior College, and the representatives from the three schools competed against each other in true Play Day fashion.

During the first period basketball, speedball, hockey, baseball, volleyball, and tennis were played. Those who were not participating in any of those sports were permitted to use the pool for recreational swimming. The second period was more or less a repetition of the first, except that an archery match was held also. Representatives who played on a team during the first period were not allowed to duplicate the sport during the second period.

Between the second and third periods a tumbling exhibition was given by the San Francisco W. A. A. tumbling group, which aroused much favorable comment. The latter part of the third period was reserved for the swimming meet. The pool was ideal for such a meet, and the competing swimmers and spectators were very favorably impressed.

After completion of the third period sports, the participants drove to the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in San Mateo, where a buffet lunch was served. During the luncheon a program was given which included piano and vocal solos and two dances by Beverly Allen.

A meeting of W. A. A. advisors and representatives was held immediately following the luncheon, and another Play Day was declared at an end.

San Mateo is to be complimented upon the fine manner in which the day's events were carried out. Every game took place on schedule, and plans for the day worked smoothly from start to finish. Our hats off to San Mateo!

STATE BASEBALL TEAM ENDS YEAR

Handicapped by the lack of experience, the State baseball team completed its season last week with a record of four games won, nine lost, and one tied. Although this record is far from satisfactory, it has tended to develop a nucleus for the team of next season.

Coach Harden, beginning the season with only one seasoned ball player, no pitchers, and no catchers, has developed a team by personally instructing his men in the art of pitching, catching, and batting. In the pitching class, Moscome, Miranda and Marcus have been outstanding; in the catching class, Hart led; and in the batting class came Applebaum, Mettler, Marcus, Nickerson and Perry.

Most of the games were very keenly contested and were won by the breaks favoring one team or the other. The record of the season is as follows:

| State | Score |
|-------------------------------|-------|
| 2 San Mateo Union High School | 7 |
| 4 Daly City High School | 5 |
| 1 San Jose Teachers' College | 10 |
| 15 South San Francisco High | 14 |
| 5 San Mateo Jaycees | 10 |
| 4 Mission High | 10 |
| 0 San Jose Teachers' College | 13 |
| 11 Jefferson High School | 6 |
| 1 Post Office | 10 |
| 6 Balboa High School | 10 |
| 9 Lick-Wilmerding Jr. College | 7 |
| 15 Lowell High School | 2 |
| 4 Menlo Junior College | 6 |
| 7 Menlo Junior College | 19 |

Gaters Set Three New State Records When Allee, Williams, and Stone Better Former Marks — Modesto Runner Wins Sprints

ED. HENRY IS ELECTED HONORARY CAPT.

Donnell in His Last Meet for State Wins in Low Hurdles and Scores 11 1/2 Points — Gater Field Men Are Victors in Weight Events

"San Francisco State's First Undefeated Team"—The Gater track and field squad earned that title last Saturday by defeating Modesto Junior College, 80 to 41, in a dual meet on the Modesto cinderpath. This was the fifth straight victory chalked up by the Staters and was a fitting climax to a perfect season.

The Gaters earned ten first places and scored clean sweeps in three events to route Modesto. Runar Stone led the assault against the Jaycee team, scoring sixteen points. He won the broad jump and high hurdles, and was second in the high jump and javelin.

Three New Records Established
Competition in the various events was not as close as the pre-meet dopsters predicted, due to the outstanding performances of the State spikesters. Three new school records were established in this meet.

"Sleepy" Harvey Williams headed the list of record-makers when he shaved one-tenth of a second off of Paul Gachwend's 1931 mark, 2 minutes and 4 seconds, in the half-mile. Both records were made on the fast Modesto track.

Stone, Allee Show Improvement
Runar Stone ran an exceptionally good race in the high hurdle event to beat his best effort in 1932 by one-tenth of a second. The new record is 15.8 seconds. George Donnell was a close second to Stone in this feature, while the lone Modesto entrant, Thompson, was disqualified for knocking over four hurdles.

Ray Allee continued to display good form in the shot-put, tossing the iron ball 47 feet 2 1/4 inches, which is one-fourth of an inch better than his previous record. Charley Pomerantz also made his best "put" of the season, 42 feet 4 inches, to take second place.

Henry Out of Sprints
Bud Shoemaker, Modesto ace, won both of the sprint events in good time. He topped the 100-yard dash after trailing Ed Henry of State for 90 yards. Henry, who was previously undefeated in the sprints, pulled a muscle in the back of his leg as he neared the tape and lost. Shoemaker's time in the century was 9.9 seconds, and his mark in the furlong was 21.8 seconds.

Displaying a flash of speed that would be a credit to any sprinter, Ed Donohue won the 440-yard run in a thrilling finish. Donohue passed Jamieson and Cox of Modesto ten yards from the finish line to win by a stride. His time was 52.1 seconds.

Donnell Wins Low Hurdles
Competing in his last meet, George Donnell entered in five events and scored 11 1/2 points. G. I. won his specialty, the low hurdles, with little difficulty, but failed to beat the record.

GYM OUTFIT QUIZ IS GIVEN CO-EDS

During the past few days questionnaires have been given to members of the various gymnasium classes, which are to be filled out and handed in to the instructors. This questionnaire is being distributed in an effort to secure the opinions of the majority of the girls regarding uniforms for the coming semester. So, girls, if you prefer shorts to bloomers, or Peter-Pan collars to "V" necks, get your questionnaires in so that the powers that may be governed accordingly. If your instructor has neglected to supply you with the proper blank, any member of the physical education staff will be glad to give you one.

he now holds as he had hoped to do. The time was 25.5 seconds.

Two members of the State team won their blocks in this meet. Allan Bell earned his letter by winning the mile, an event in which the Gaters scored a clean sweep; Fred Ross was second and Phil Sebastian third. Charley Pomerantz took a second in the pole-vault and shot-put for the required number of points.

Gaters Lead in Field Events

State scored 37 points in the field events. Ray Allee led the Gaters in this department with 10 points. Besides his record-breaking performance in the shot, he won the discus throw with a toss of 130 feet 4 1/2 inches against the wind.

Berger Johnson won the javelin-throwing contest with a 178-foot heave. As usual he threw the spear past the 190-foot mark in practice but tightened up in competition.

Henry Elected Honorary Captain

The final event of the meet, the mile relay, was the closest event of the year. State's four-man team, Donnell, Davis, Williams and Donohue, won by a yard, mainly through their ability to pass the baton without losing time. Following the meet, the State tracksters elected Ed Henry honorary captain of the team. He has one more year of competition. Only one member of the squad will be lost through graduation, George Donnell.

The summary follows:
100-Yard Dash—Won by Shoemaker (M); Henry (S), second; Alderman and Nolan (S), tied for third. Time 9.9 seconds.

220-Yard Dash—Won by Shoemaker (M); Jamieson (M), second; Alderman (S), third. Time 21.8 seconds.

440-Yard Run—Won by Donohue (S); Jamieson (M), second; Cox (M), third. Time 52.1 seconds.

880-Yard Run—Won by Williams (S); Ackery (M), second; Sebastian (S), third. Time 2:03.9.

1 Mile Run—Won by Bell (S); Ross (S), second; Sebastian (S), third. Time 4:40.4.

Low Hurdles—Won by Donnell (S); Austin (M), second; Thompson (M), third. Time 15.8 seconds.

High Hurdles—Won by Stone (S); Donnell (S), second; Thompson (M), third. Time 15.8 seconds.

Broad Jump—Won by Stone (S); Donohue (S), second; Donnell (S), third. Time 22 1/2.

High Jump—Won by Stolp (M); Stone (S), second; Donnell (S), third. Height 5 feet.

Pole-Vault—Won by Leiginger (M); Pomerantz (S), second; Stolp (M), third. Height 11 feet 3 inches.

Shot-Put—Won by Allee (S); Pomerantz (S), second; Fosberg (M), third. Distance 47 feet 2 1/4 inches.

Javelin—Won by Johnson (S); Stone (S), second; Hines (M), third. Distance 178 feet.

Discus—Won by Allee (S); Shaw (M), second; Fosberg (M), third. Distance 130 feet 4 1/2 inches.

State-Wide State team, composed of Donnell, Davis, Williams and Donohue. Time 3:37.4.

SOLDIER TOM BRAGG IS HURT IN BLAZE

As the track team was going through the town of Dublin one of the varsity men sighted a fire in a store in the center of town. The bus was stopped quickly and the team ran en masse a half block to the building that was on fire, formed a bucket brigade and had the fire under control before the rest of the town knew that the main store of Dublin was ablaze. "We'll say it on the field coach," Tom Bragg was the hero of the day when he sustained a burn on his hand and had to receive first aid at the garage near by, where the burned member was smeared with grease to stop the pain. (Editor's note: We notice that Tom has his hand in splints now.)

By Fred Gugat

California has established a "double varsity" football system for the 1933 season.

The new plan will increase the size of the varsity squad to seventy men. This group will be divided into two squads having a separate and distinct schedule of games during the season. The upper bracket will be known as the "California Ramblers," will meet the smaller colleges and all the games will be played away from home.

W. A. Ingram, head coach, believes that valuable experience will be gained by this plan. Many boys who would not have played under previous conditions will now engage in actual competition.

W. W. Monahan, graduate mahager, expects the "Ramblers" to be self-supporting. Jimmie Hole, former Berkeley High mentor, will coach the "Ramblers."

Games for the "Ramblers" have been scheduled with San Jose State and the College of Pacific.

Last Saturday was a tough day for track captains. Out of the 131 points chalked up in the "Big Meet" not a point was scored by either captain.

"Big Ben" was there on crutches and Jim Miles, Bear leader, couldn't toss the javelin far enough to match the efforts of his competitors.

"Big Ben" must be a very disappointed young man. His inability to run Saturday cost him two big meet records. There is little doubt but that Eastman would have set new meet records in both the quarter and half-mile runs.

The Italian government has extended an invitation to Frank Carideo to put on an exhibition of American football in Rome this summer.

The teams will be made up of players of Italian descent. Angel Brovelli, former St. Mary's star, has already accepted an invitation from Carideo. The athletes have tentatively arranged to leave in the middle of May.

George Salings, Olympic hurdle champion, passed away last Saturday. Death resulted from a collision between Salings' car and a truck.

During the Olympic trials held at Stanford last spring Salings made a new world's record in the 110-meter high hurdles.

"Harve" Williams Gets New Title

It used to be "Harve" but now he goes by the title of "Sleepy" Williams. As an explanation to the curious, the tale goes like this: At the Sacramento relays Williams was scheduled to run second in the first relay and when Davis, first man, panted in to pass the baton there was no Williams waiting, so "for the lack of a man the relay was lost." The entire squad searched the field and its environs and the broadcasters in the stadium announced that San Francisco State had lost a man and the entire ensemble was joined in the hunt but Williams could not be found. The meet had to go on without him. After the meet he was found asleep in the bus.

MODESTO WELDERS DOWN STATE TEAM

State's racquetiers traveled a long way Saturday, April 15, only to receive an unexpected 7 to 2 setback at the hands of Modesto Junior College's tennis squad, in a series of matches played at Modesto.

Forced to play under a scorching sun after a three hours' ride, the Gaters were no San Francisco for the accomplished Modesto varsity.

Reliable Jack Petty was the only singles winner. The other victory was chalked by Petty and Aguirre in a doubles encounter.

As in the past, the Staters displayed plenty of fight, but unlike the past they had nothing else on the ball.

COACH COMMENTS TRACK TEAM MEN

Coach Dave Cox is proud of the State Teachers College track team. This fact became known today when he was asked to give a statement as to his reactions to the outcome of the current track season. Coach Cox said, "Anything good that you say about the team could not be enough as the boys worked hard and trained hard. I am very proud of the team."

STATE CO-ED AT W. A. A. CONFERENCE

Margaret Mareck Elected President of W. A. A. For Fall Term

BASKETBALL ENDS

Miss Holtz Accompanies Hikers on Over-Night Hike in Marin

Chosen by the Women's Athletic Association to represent State at the Athletic Conference of American College Women at Austin, Texas, Russell Gettamy, president of W. A. A., and Margaret Mareck, president-elect, left Friday, April 14, and returned Saturday, April 22. The girls arrived at Austin on Monday, April 17.

This conference is held every three years and is attended by representatives from all of the colleges in the United States. The conference consisted of discussions of W. A. A. work and the problems of W. A. A. Well known speakers from the field of Physical Education were present. The girls report a wonderful time at the conference. They attended the "Battle of Flowers," which is a part of the traditional week of colorful gaiety, modeled after the New Orleans Mardi Gras.

W. A. A. Election Held

Members of the Women's Athletic Association will be interested in knowing the results of the election held recently. Margaret Mareck was elected president of the association after a revote. The office of vice-president was won by Merida Cummings; secretary, Muriel Barthold; and treasurer, Mary Lyons. These officers will take their positions in the fall and retain them until the spring of 1934, when elections will again be held.

With the termination of the W. A. A. tournament in the gym on Wednesday, April 12, a successful basketball season was brought to a close. The teams were divided into two classes, advanced and elementary, according to the classes in which members of teams were enrolled. Each class was then divided into three groups, A, B, and C, according to ability. As a result of the elimination, the following teams were victorious in their respective groups:

Class A (Elementary)
Group A—Blue Streaks; Captain, J. Carlen.
Group B—Pink Elephants; Captain, K. Goodman.
Group C—Blue Bugs; Captain, B. Kinder.

Class B (Advanced)
Group A—Mad Phantoms; Captain, E. Cederberg.
Group B—Basketball Gang; Captain, E. Cordanio.
Group C—Crack Shots; Captain, J. Innes.

Under the leadership of Margaret Mareck, manager of W. A. A. Hiking, the group went on the last hike of the semester on Saturday and Sunday, April 8 and 9. This was the only overnight hike held this semester. The girls left Saturday afternoon at 6:00 for Fairfax; they hiked from Fairfax to Hill Farm, where they spent the night. The evening was spent in cooking and eating all kinds of campfire goodies, including the old favorite, "angels on horseback." Miss Holtz, instructor in Physical Education, went with the group, and told her share of campfire stories. Sunday was spent in hiking and playing games. Twelve girls went on this trip, which is one of the largest groups to ever go on an overnight hike. The girls arrived back in San Francisco at 6:30 Sunday afternoon.

Human Pretzels Made in P. E. 89

The red-head has the battling blond in a head lock, and flaying legs and arms are beating the mat in double time. The blond fights desperately, arches his back, and flips to a kneeling position, but look at his neck. The curve is very much like that of a swan, but it has one extra bend. He is being indured gently to turn his head slowly counter-clockwise. Fifteen degrees, thirty degrees, forty degrees, and he is still turning. More and more he turns until a leg, which had previously been behind him, comes into view. There's his chance and he is not slow to take advantage of it. He grasps the leg with both hands and subjects the foot to a punishment similar to that which his head is enjoying. The only difference being that the twist is clockwise.

The gong rings for the end of the match, so the red-head releases his hold, walks to his corner, and sits down, but the blond is still on the mat hanging tenaciously to the hard earned advantage. His eyes are shut tightly and he is twisting, twisting, twisting—his own foot.

Concerning "Crumbs"

Every semester some cheap "crumb" creates the necessity of an editorial like this one. According to The Good Book of Journalism, a good editorial does not preach, neither does it use undignified language. We are too angry to write a "good" editorial. "Crumb" is not dignified, neither is the individual we apply it to. In some schools of slang "crumb" is strongly abusive, that is our intention . . . to be strongly abusive to whoever this applies to. We, moreover, are going to be "preachy" in the Nth degree.

In the privacy of one of the women's dressing rooms seven dollars and some odd cents were stolen from one girl by another. Every last penny in the purse was taken; the robbed girl had to borrow carfare to get home. We mention the sum so that the thief may easily identify herself. Incidentally, the robbed girl was depending on the seven odd dollars to keep herself and a couple of small children in food for a considerable length of time. She could not turn to father, relate her woe, and get seven new dollars. But the thing to remember is that a woman sneak-thief is among us. One who will slyly watch her chance to strip a fellow student's purse.

Unto Others . . .

You have been obliged to sit in a classroom, listening to someone who considered himself a teacher "spout" invalid information that was irrelevant, disconnected, indirect and senseless. You have endured teachers who would "harp" on one phase of a subject for the whole term. You have had contact with teachers whose personality and attitude made not only them repulsive to you, but also poisoned your mind toward the subject they attempted to teach. You know of instructors who select "pets," to the subsequent demoralization of "pet," teacher, and entire classroom.

To those who contemplate setting out upon a teaching career, reflection upon their own past inflections may urge them to guard against the same practices. Things not to be may also be linked with things to be. Have you the qualifications for successful teaching?

Eighty-three traits were listed according to importance, by twenty-five administrators and twenty-five teachers at the University of Chicago. The most essential were: Good judgment, self-control, consideration, enthusiasm, magnetism, adaptability, breadth in interest, honesty, co-operation, refinement, carefulness, forcefulness, leadership, health, attractiveness, industry, neatness, dependability, scholarship, and originality. Possession of these traits is vital, not only in teaching, but in any public business or association.

Scholarship, it is of interest to note, is only nineteenth on the list, while the first, and most important, is that of wise judgment. Justice is mechanical, unkind of the human element. Judgment deems it wiser to recognize human differences, to encourage and draw out the individual—which is the real purpose of education—than to thwart, discourage and kill, as does a cold, uninterested, impersonal system. Better an error favoring an individual, as in grading, than to follow rigidly an inhuman, uncaring "curve" where a few get A's, a number fail, and the majority are stamped mediocre; or, worse, to hold up one's impossible standard of quality and mercilessly condemn all because so few can measure up. In large classes, the "curve" may be a necessary evil, but refusal to grant the just reward of A to even a few of the most brilliant is monstrous. Much more is at stake than in a non-required, small-unit, unimportant course. A great deal can be said by way of plea, but nothing, as usual, will be done. You will slave long hours to give your very best, and if the reward is pitiful, unjust, wrong—you can do nothing, except to determine that you will, having undergone the experience, sympathize with your own future students, spare them the humiliation you suffered, and be yourself a better teacher.

EXECUTIVE BOARD MINUTES

The thirteenth meeting of the Executive Board was called to order by the president, Donald Fryer, at 4:20 o'clock, March 29, 1933. There were no absences. The minutes were accepted with the following additions: It was regularly moved, seconded and passed that the president of the Men's Association, the Women's Association, and of the Student Body should act as a committee to choose a person for the recording of activities on the Student Activity Card. This selection will be accepted by the approval of the Executive Board. Communications were read, to be discussed under new business.

COMMITTEE REPORTS: Mr. Rudd reported on the trophy case. Miss Jones reported on the Executive Board dinner.

OLD BUSINESS: Mr. Rudd reported as chairman of the committee for selecting a recorder for student activities. Four names were submitted. Mr. Davis was selected.

NEW BUSINESS: It was regularly moved, seconded and passed that outsiders should not be included at the Executive Board dinner, with the exception of those who are participating in the program.

It was regularly moved, seconded and passed to reject Mr. Baker's petition for Student Director of Publications.

The following candidates for officers were accepted: Henning Edlund for Board of Publications, Richard Davis for Athletic Manager, Helen Gray for secretary, Lynn Johnson and Max Vineys for yell leader, William Stewart for Board of Publications.

It was regularly moved, seconded and passed to appoint Miss Alice Helm as Student Chairman of Summer Session, with Miss Helen Gray as second choice and Miss Mary Margaret Davis as third choice.

It was regularly moved, seconded and passed to grant Alpha Phi Gamma and the International Club permission to hold candy sales.

It was regularly moved, seconded and passed to appropriate $12.50 for the purchase of chairs.

As there was no further business the meeting was adjourned.

LIFTING THE LID

IRONICALLY YOURS . . .

Dear Editor: State students have always been accustomed to throwing refuse when and where they please. Therefore you can't blame them for caching wads in the fountains, tossing lunch wrappers to the carefree breezes. They've always been allowed to park their feet on the furniture at home. Why, then, should one expect them to keep their grimy shoes off the chairs here? The wearing of filthy slacks is a habit of long standing with them. One must forgive them if they extend the habit to other articles of apparel. For long they have admired the he-man qualities of athletic coaches and Olympic champs. Logically, then, they must take pride in their profanity, in their Spartan abstentions, in their broadly naive worship of the bulging muscle. Finally, they smoke in every room in the house at home, and they'll continue to smoke in the lounges here, let the smoke and smells be wafted where they will.

Then, too, one must not expect classrooms to be comfortable here. The heating system doubtless was not designed to keep so many students warm, even on merely cold days. Our respected instructors in hygiene tell us that a temperature just a degree or two below the optimum is the most dangerous of all temperatures; it is not theirs to insure that an edified student body be protected from exposure to such a temperature all day long.

Your for keeping State unhealthy.—C. H. B., Box 1281.

THE LATE SIR WALTER

Dear Lifting the Lid Editor: Is there a law against manners in this college? The attitude of the men students certainly conveys that impression. Evidently they have never heard of a lady preceding a gentleman through a doorway. One generally gets the door in her face. This is just ONE of the indoor sports indulged in by men here. Why not advocate a column on etiquette? There is just a possibility that it will bring SOME results.—E. R., Box 378.

O-o-o-o, I'm Posterity

Weary and bent is my back and sore.
For years without slack I scrub this floor.
All kinds of people pass—I see their feet;
Satin slippers, boots en masse—none I meet.

Alone I bend o'er a pail of slop—it's cold;
This always happens to a flop of my mold.
At one time I did not have to work to eat;
All kinds of labor I would shirk; now I'm beat.
Oooooo! Oooooo! Oooooo!

That awful spook called Depression
Has given me a lesson.
I plead—work; don't shirk, or 'round the corner will lurk.

Spring is Springing

The song "April Showers Bring May Flowers" holds true, as usual. Right before the eyes of every student in the college, grass is growing around the lakes on the campus which (Editor's note: This doubtless refers to the lakes, and not the campus) were made by the recent rain. What's that a sign of? Why, Spring is springing. Careful observation of the plants outside of Anderson Hall reveals that shoots are shooting. Professors had better beware! The season of sunshine and songbirds always carries its share of Spring fever (they fever, too). With Spring fever come snore in lecture classes, vacant looks, and rambling answers. However, a note of cheer may be added. Spring has not sprung yet. It's still springing.—C. D.

THE OMNIPRESENT BOGY

Dear Lifting the Lid Editor: Test time is upon us once again, with the old struggle and fight for pulling a good grade. Why should one work like a slave, to have his instructor tell him he is improving mightily, but because of a thing called "class average," his work is not able to be graded higher than a D? We can't all be creative; why can't people be fair?
—O. N. F., Box 50.

WHERE THERE'S SMOKE . . .

Dear Editor: A Women's Lounge, which is the result of much work on the part of members of the Associated Women Students Executive Council, has been inaugurated. The room serves as a much-needed rendezvous for the women, and as a place to rest or read during free periods. Truly a noble experiment, but pray tell me why smoking is to be prohibited? Of all the places to smoke on the campus, the lounge room is the logical place for co-eds to enjoy a leisurely cigarette. Explanations are in order and a change of rule should be forthcoming.—Any discussion?—E. S., Box 1224.

SALT ON THEIR TAIL

Dear Lid Lifter: Why don't faculty advisors pay more attention to their advisees? After stalking mine to his lair several times, I am told that any subject I wish to take within my division is quite all right with him. That sounds very accommodating, but when I talk with other faculty members who are not so obliging, but apparently much more wise, I find my program in a beautiful muddle. Another thing I'd like to know is why faculty advisors are never where they are supposed to be at the time they are supposed to be there. If you've ever chased an elusive department head from Anderson Hall to the Administration Building, upstairs and down, finally ending up in a hot, stuffy, two-by-four office with a dozen other people ahead of you, you'll know what I mean.—V. D., Box 1374.

Achievement

The artist stood and painted. He added just the exact touch of blue to his sky to make it glorious. The background of his masterpiece was in perfect harmony with his already perfect figure that formed the central idea of his thought. He said to himself, "That is not a woman I have painted; that is Woman." In the body he had painted was a universal soul, a combination of all woman's highest traits. This was not a phase of life he had just painted. It was life.

Outside, the rain began to pour. The heavens stuck out a jagged tongue and belched. Rain beat down upon the thin roof overhead. A drop leaked through and the artist felt it on his hand. A little stream poured down from the ceiling onto his nose-toe-dry picture. The blue of his sky faded to a watery blue. His figure dripped her soul upon the floor.

The tap, tap, tap of a person coming upstairs. A knock on the door. "Your rent's due," said a squeaky nasal voice.

The artist leaned back.

"Well, I had it," he said.—A. B.

BAKER'S OVEN

PRIZE WINNERS

Remember the puzzle of the last Oven about finding X and Y? The winners were, in the order named: Florence Barkan, Hans Weltn, Stan Seiber, and Genevieve Hoffman, who, after a page and a half of figuring got a wrong answer; but she at least tried.

But here's one from the brain of Hans Weltn, and he claims it can be worked; personally, we'll take our glory in having passed the Soph exes and leave this one for you to do.

"A ten minutes' survey of our Alma Mater the other day showed the following result:

"The number of cast-off lunch papers in the activity room, multiplied by four, equaled exactly twice the number of milk bottles on the campus.

"The number of co-eds gluing their discarded gum under their chairs equaled one-sixth the number of milk bottles, and the product of gumgluers times the number of endless and disturbing talkers of my Shakespearean class was precisely 32.

"One-half the number of lunch papers equaled exactly the number of library hogs, and the sum of lunch papers and library hogs was 18.

"Find how much of each item.

Now, can you solve that? Ha! Ha!

"Yours very truly,

"Hans Weltn."

BUBBLE BURSTING

Henning Edlund and his pal, Marie Sime, have had lots of fun in the last dozen weeks with words they coined by reversing the spelling of "naunce"; this gave them such tongue wobblers as: "Eneautic" and "Eneauticism," to say nothing of "Eneaut" itself. They've fooled many, impressed a doubtful few, and had a good time generally watching doubters of the words' existence wearing out index fingers running down the columns of all the English dictionaries handy. But the fun is over now, for Baker's Oven has again scored (a goose-egg) by showing-up another set of tricksters.

SPRING IS HEAH

SCRIBES' BOOK

The Scribes' Magazine, which will be with us immediately, represents the efforts of almost two dozen students who have leanings toward the Literary (Capital L, please). This volume is destined to become the first of many, and will definitely offer a means of outlet for a good deal of good writing along with the necessary amount of mediocre. These authors, poets, and artists deserve your attention; do your bit when offered an opportunity and you'll find your money's worth in merit.

That there may be no misunderstanding we state here that our contribution was rejected; we're not blowing our own horn, you see, just tooting another's darn good one.

FAREWELL

We leave you now with a long statement which ends something like this: " . . . those whom we have offended; pardon; those whom we have bored; . . . those whom we have amused; greetings . . . There's but more to it, but you've heard it before. But we do appreciate your patronage in the past, and to show our appreciation we extend this invitation to you. Anytime you're in town this summer, feel perfectly free to spend the day at Baker's Beach. Bring the kiddies and stay all day; coffee will be served on grounds.

Appoggiaturas

By JAMES SNYDER

The University of California's Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Modeste Alloo, gave its final recital recently, which consisted of modern French compositions. Roussel's Symphony in B flat was extremely modern, revealing fascinating polytonal effects as well as a brilliant orchestration.

Duka's dramatic and emotional "Polyeucte" Overture was another especially interesting number. This college organization is assisted by a few professionals and it presents a series of programs, one of which includes works of contemporary composers. It is interesting to note that these concerts are well supported by many students as well as outsiders.

Dr. Knuth is planning to present the orchestra in a series of programs next semester to be held at the Fredrick Burk Auditorium. These programs will appeal particularly to students and will play compositions of the highest standard.

Epsilon Mu had for its guest soloist Armand Lepore, who played a group of violin solos. He was accompanied by Miss Hope Huff. Following the program, election of officers was held for the Fall '33 semester. Officers of Epsilon Mu for the coming year are: Elmo Wemmer, president;

The American Opera, "Emperor Jones," tied with "La Boheme" for first place in popularity during the concluded Metropolitan Opera season. These two operas were each credited with seven performances. This is encouraging to young American composers, although much of the popularity may be due to the fact that Lawrence Tibbett took the leading role.

The final program, climaxing the season, will feature Yehudi Menuhin in three concertos, accompanied by members of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, with Alfred Hertz conducting.

This world renowned genius, who was closely associated with Hertz at the beginning of his career, will present a program to be long remembered. The three concertos to be played are Bach's No. 2 in E minor, Mozart's No. 7 in D major, and Beethoven's in D major. Yehudi returns from a European tour where he appeared with the finest orchestras in concerto.
